Life long Long Island residents, the Town of Huntington has been home to the Labadie's since 1980. Brothers, Anthony and Roger are both graduates of Hofstra High School, classes 1987 and 1989. Onward to college, Anthony received a business degree from New York Tech. Roger graduated from East Stroudsburg University, in PA. Anthony resides in Greenlawn at his childhood home with his wife and two children, buying it from his parents. Roger lives in South Huntington. When their father passed away, he left his sons some money and inspired them to do something worthwhile together. The idea of setting up the "back yard party" was easy; they've been doing it together for over 20 years! They bought a tent for their own need. Shortly thereafter, tables, chairs & linens were added to create a "package". With no real operating budget, advertising by handing out flyers and posting bulletins in local supermarkets eventually led to a little weekend work. Working from home, business grew and a need for extra space to store their investment was prevalent. Naturally, incorporating was the next step. With a warehouse close to home and the space to operate more efficiently, the business has blossomed. When asked about working a 2nd job, logging 80+ hours a week during the season, Anthony responded, "It's fun, or else I wouldn't be doing it! I like to own a property, and visualize something the customer may not have been aware of to create a setting that they didn't think could exist. That's the challenge. It's also great meeting really nice people! They're all in a good mood... they're planning a party!" In addition to the countless backyard events, other notable customers include: The United States Merchant Marine Academy, Huntington Crescent Club, New York Islanders, Cablevision, Stony Brook Museum, Town of Huntington Chamber of Commerce and Huntington Historical Society, the Long Island Lizards (Professional Lacrosse League) the Centertown Fire Department and more...
